SOUSA'S BAND AGAIN.

Manager Christainer Signs Contracts with Secretary Downing.

Frank Christianer, manager for Sousa's Irvington. band, was in Indianapolis yesterday closing the contract for the appearance here during State fair week of the famous band. state Board of Agriculture has arranged for four concerts during the week, two on the fair grounds in the afternoon and two in Tomlinson Hall at night. The concerts will be given on Wednesday and Thursday. Sousa is to receive $3,500 for the four concerts and is to play in no other Indiana city prior to the concerts given here. Sousa will likely have his three soloists here. The band is now in St. Petersburg, Russia, but will sail from Liverpool July 31. The manager of the band yesterday signed the contracts which Secretary Downing had prepared.

CARRIED BIG REVOLVERS.

Police Pick Up Suspicious-Looking

Characters for Investigation. Harry Savage and Lee Turner, two suspicious-looking characters, were placed under arrest early yesterday morning by Bicyclemen Askins and Duncan, charged with loltering and carrying concealed weapons. Savage carried a large revolver in a hoister under his right arm, and Turner had an equally dangerous-looking weapon in his pocket. The men, it is said, correspond to the descriptions in the hands of the police of desperate characters wanted here for numerous "hold-ups" in the last few weeks and will be held pending an investigation.

Ill from Boredom.

New Orleans Times-Democrat. A great many so-called illnesses are probably the result of boredom-that is the lack of some mental stimulus sufficiently strong to overcome the frequent disquieting symptoms to which humanity is heir, and which undoubtedly can often be converted into bona fide ailments by mental suggestion. This is certainly true of three-fourths of milady's indispositions, which disappear as if by magic under the skillful and tactful treatment of a physician who combines a knowledge of the world with the skill of an Aesculapius. "Give your daughter a very smart walking costume and tell her how becoming it is," said a well-known local physician recently, with the wisdom of the serpent, to the mother of an anaemic debutante, "and make up some West End Athletic parties; she needs exercise and amusement. That is all that is the matter with her." Sure enough, the dancing season having closed, nothing offered itself to beguile the hours that hung so heavy on the hands of the resourceless young woman, and she was growing actually ill for lack of entertainment. It is a pitiable fact that such young women exist, but as long as they do, absolutely dependent upon amusement,

"That must be wonderfully good air in New York," said a New Orleans husband recently, whose wife had been on the verge of nervous prostration and had been Mrs. Bertha De Prez. Miss Emma Was-son will go to Shelbyville to-morrow to join that she has not had an ill moment since she got there." The poor man remembered having seen an account of a hot spell that had swept over New York, which is never especially invigorating, as it is overbuilded, overcrowded, and life there is a feverish rush. He did not know that it was pure boredom that ailed his wife, and perhaps his wife did not know either. Now that she is amused she is all right. A change is good for everybody.

Concerning Cosmetics. Philadelphia Telegraph.

Avoid any cosmetic containing bismuth. It will so speckle the skin with black points that the "beauty giver," or some substitute, must be used as a disguising agent. The skin treated habitually with bismuth becomes shriveled, ghastly and repulsive. So far as wrinkles are concerned it is positively deadly to apply any adhesive substance and then a powder, for the skin will be rendered unpliable, and will corru-

Who has not heard of tannic acid and alum being used for wrinkles? These drugs cause more wrinkles than they remove! Do not rub strawberry juice over the face and leave it on until the morning. A rash procedure, and a rash for result, which pun is justified by the other atrocity. Fruit juices may do good, but very rarely, At the first they should be employed diluted, and be at once washed off with simple water. Soap would be deadly. If the skin does not get irritated the liquid may be allowed to remain on longer. But the strength and the duration should be closely watched. Any irritation is a sign that one or both must be lessened. Lotions of eau de cologne, or of am monia applied to skins that need before all things improved nutrition-fats, call them how you will-when the sebaceous glands are already too active, these are exemplary of everyday errors. When ice is used to boil kettles, and fire to freeze water these things will be right and proper. Of all possible errors, not one is fraught with more terrible consequences than action consonant with the belief that hygienic rules are prosy "fudge," and that beauty can be gained and held while they are disregarded. That is indeed the crowning example of the many ways in which cosmetics may be wrongly used. Women as Typewriters.

Philadelphia Record.

"Women, as a rule, can typewrite faster than men," said an instructor in a business college. "The world's champion tpyexpert operators. They never look at the keyboard or at their hands. They know the board perfectly well with their eyes shut. Their work disfigures their fingers slightly, making the tips broad, and it is necessary for them to keep the nails very short so that in striking the keys, none of the nail, but only the flesh of the finger, touches. The fastest time I ever saw made was 100 words in a minute. Such a speed as that can only be kept up a few minutes at a time, for it tears the nerves to pieces. Miss Pretty's record is 20,400 of the delightful features of the company. I records as this, but men have better staying powers and the aggregate work they accomplish excels, in the long run, the women's aggregate."

The Brighton Dip.

New York Evening Post. The chin pushed out defiantly, shoulders hunched, elbows bent, and the trunk of the body thrown forward at a perilous angle-this is the "Brighton dip," now so common among young women on Broadway. It is a style of exaggerated walk that can hardly be termed graceful, but it is popular, and must take time and a vast amount of practice to acquire. From the expression on the faces of the young women, it would appear that the "dip" involves a certain nervous strain, for it is reasonable to suppose that unless the center of gravity is maintained the walker is in imminent danger of falling face downward. The "Brighton dip" is believed to have been originated in Brighton, England, and as it came from a watering place perhaps it will disappear along the Atlantic seaboard this summer.

YOUNG SINGER'S SUCCESS

TERENCE HOLLIDAY WINS HIS AUDI-ENCE AT THE PROPYLAEUM.

Recital the Occasion for Brilliant Gathering of Society-The Programme and Patronesses.

Mr. Terence Holliday, a young bass singer, was introduced in Indianapolis last night by a recital given at the Propylaeum. The audience that assembled to hear Mr. Holliday, including about 200 of the music lovers in Indianapolis society, and the audience was a brilliant one. The west parlor was used for the recital and the room was filled early.

Mr. Holliday, who has recently come to Indianapolis from Philadelphia, is only eighteen years old, but is a singer of remarkable finish. He has an exceptionally beautiful voice- rich, smooth and sympathetic. He is exceedingly boyish in appearance and his dignified, serious manner, together with his youth, won his audience last night even before he began to sing He is entirely free from mannerisms and affectations, and, though slightly nervous in his opening number, he soon gained control of himself and gave a thoroughly delightful recital.

The programme included three groups of songs by Mr. Holliday. The first included three German songs-"Nur wer die Schnsucht kennt," Tschaikowsky; "Liebesglueck," Max Spicker, and "Ich grolle nicht," Schumann. The second group included "Myself When Young," Liza Lehmann; "Dear When I Gaze," and "The Violet," A. Mildenberg. For the third group Mr. Holliday gave "Anathemn" and "Resignation," from the cycle, "Eliland," by Alexander Von Fielitz. After each one of his groups of songs Mr. Holliday was enthusiastically encored, responding to the first with "Drink to Me Only with Thine Eyes," to the second with a tender little love song and for the third with "The Two Grenadiers." Mr. Holliday's programme was well selected and showed at its best a voice which is full of richness and sweetness, and under excellent control. He was at his best, perhaps, in the love songs, which exhibited admirably the tenderness and sympathy of his voice. It is evident that Mr. Holliday's voice possesses dramatic possibilities which he does not as yet recognize, though he sang his last num-bass voice than was shown in any of his other numbers. Mr. Boone McKee, under whose direction the recital was given, accompanied Mr. Holliday sympathetically and aided materially in the singer's interpretation of his numbers. Mr. Hugh McGibeny gave three violin numbers and responded to two encores. His selections were 'Andante and Finale,' from the Concerto, in G. minor, Schumann; "Nocturne," Ernst, and "Hungarian Dance, No. 5," Brahms-Joachim. Mr. McGibeny's playing was, as always, masterly and wonderfully appealing and all of his numbers

HOME DRESSMAKING HINTS.

By MAY MANTON. Fancy boleros of all sorts are much in vogue and make charming bodices over the soft full blouses with which they are worn. This stylish one is shown in moss green velvet ribbon, piped with white and held by fancy stitching, over a blouse of white pongee with embroidered dots of green, but it is equally well suited to a variety of materials. Strips of material or of lace can be substituted for the velvet or the jacket can be made of one material, plain silk, brocade, lace, linen or anything pretty and attractive that may be preferred, while the blouse is suited to all soft and pliable materials. The waist consists of the blouse, that is made with full fronts and back, and the 4446 Blouse and Bolero 32 to 40 bust.

The blouse is gathered at both upper and lower edges and is joined to a plain collar at the neck and to a basque portion at the lower edge and closses invisibly at the center front. A fancy collar, plain or draped, is arranged over the foundation one and is closed at the back. The sleeves are full and ample and are gathered into straight cuffs. The bolero is made with fronts and back and fitted by means of shoulder and under-arm seams. When, as in the case of the model, it is made from ribbon the strips are arranged over indicated lines and joined by faggotting or other fancy stitches. The sleeves are cut in one piece each.

The quantity of material required for the medium size is for blouse 3% yards 21 inches wide, 3 yards 32 inches wide or 2 yards 44 inches wide; for bolero 1½ yards 21 inches wide, 1% yards 32 inches wide, or % yards 44 inches wide, or 141/2 yards of ribbon 11/4 inches wide. The pattern 4446 is cut in sizes for a 34, 36, 38 and 40 inch measure.

BUTLER STUDENTS SHATTER IRV-INGTON'S CLASSIC ATMOSPHERE.

Headed by Town Band They Raid Campus for Lovelorn Couples and Beard the Profs in Their Dens.

Examinations over, the Butler students were out last night for their annual big time, better expressed in the words of one slender sophomore, in a borrowed nightgown and a black felt hat pulled down over his ears, as "us villagers' annual shirt-tail parade and pajama walk." The students were robed in sheets and gowns in Klu Klux style, and led by the Irvington band of eighteen pieces paraded the streets, stouting and singing.

"Greeks" of different letters and "barbs" of many cliques gathered together and let loose their pent-up feelings in noises that awoke the deaf. The reconnoitering ground was the green sward of the campus. About 9 o'clock white figures began to flit to and fro among the trees, holding stealthy consultations. Suddenly the loud music of the Irvington band, with big Charley Judkins at the bass drum, shattered the classic atmosphere, and a mass of white figures, one hundred strong, charged upon the college residence, where the fair Butler maids dwelt in unsuspecting peace. The band played, the students sang and the girls in the windows clapped and joined in the singing. The Klu Klux were out, however, for the ladies' men. They proceeded to make a thorough search of the campus and every couple found indulging in the fancies of love was drummed back to the "dorm" to a funeral dirge, played by the Irvington band. When nothing more was doing around the college, a march was made of the town and the home of each professor visited. The professors were made to come forth and respond to the shouts of "Speech Prexy,"
"Speech Dominie." The Butler Klu Klux then continued their way shouting and singing, and their famous shirt-tail parade.

The Week's Programme. Last night, in the college chapel, the Philokurian Literary Society gave its annual entertainment. The programme for the evening included a number of songs and recitations. In conclusion Mr. Charles E. Underwood gave the senior address, taking for his subject "Compensation." Prof. Omar Wilson presented the society diplo-

At the close of the entertainment a banquet was given by the members at the college residence. Mr. Charles Underwood acted as toastmaster, and those who responded to toasts were: Mr. Jasper Moses, whose subject was "The Philokurian Girls;" Miss Edith Abbott, "The Philokurian Boys;" Mr. James Randall, "The Future of the Philokurian;" Mr. Charles F. McElroy, "A Retrospect," and Mr. Horace Russell, "The Seniors." The following members of the senior class were awarded scholarships in the University of Chicago, having received the highest average grades of their class: Chester Venier, first; James G. Randall, second, and Miss Mary Baldwin, third. These scholar-ships entitle the holders to free tuition for one quarter, at the close of which they will receive the diploma of the university. To-morrow the term examinations will be continued. In the evening President and Mrs. Butler will receive the students and friends at their residence, on Downey avenue. On Wednesday morning, at 10 o'clock, class day exercises will be held on the college campus. At 12 o'clock numerous par-ties of alumni will have basket dinners on the campus. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the students will give Shakspeare's play, "As You Like It." Later an interclass contest in singing will be held on the residence here more of the sonorous quality of the steps. In the evening the alumni banquet will be held in the dining room of the residence. On Thursday morning, in the college chapel, at 10 o'clock, the forty-ninth annual commencement will be held. The address of the occasion will be given by the Rev. J. J. Haley. His subject is "The Problem of Life from the Modern Point of View." Degrees will be conferred by the president of the college, and the diplomas presented by the president of the university.

BUILDING COMMITTEE READY TO BE-GIN WITH IMPROVEMENTS.

J. E. Neighbor, Acting General Secretary, Presents a Comprehensive Report-Routine Affairs.

The annual meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association was held at the building, on North Illinois street, last night. John N. Carey, president of the association, presided and al! of the reports showed the association to be in a flourishing condition. The report of the treasurer showed an expenditure for the year of $10,128.46. It was announced by the building committee in charge of arrangements for the work that is soon to begin on the present building that the plans had been approved and work would begin in the near future. As announced recently, James Sommerville, C. H. Badger, C. J. Buchanan, H. C. Atkins and Dr. B. A. Brown were elected to the board of directors to fill vacancies for a term of three years.

A comprehensive and complete report of the year's work was read by J. E. Neighbor, acting general secretary. In the introduction the great amount of general good done in aiding young men was dwelt upon. In point of numbers the past year has not been up to the standard, 1,049 new members being taken in, against 1,117 last year. The falling off was in the boys' department, the overcrowding last year keeping many away. The difference, however, was made up in the membership receipts, which fell short only $77.82.

The total attendance at the Sunday afternoon meetings for men was 439. In the educational class of boys who are wage earners the total attendance was 864. In the educational department the atendance for the year reached 2,001 and the enrollment 114. The cost for this work was $671.89, and which will likely be arranged when the remodeling is done. The social side of the Y. M. C. A. was made prominent and successful last year, thirty socials being given, at which the total attendance was 3,221. In the boys' department four socials had an attendance of 1,570. The employment department secured situations for 106 per-

A number of minor points were introduced by Mr. Neighbor, which, for the most part, showed that the Y. M. C. A. is carrying on a great work, and with the advent of improved conditions will exert an even greater influence for good in the com-

"To say a pleasant word to anyone was almost impossible."

"I was troubled with female weakness for eight years; and suffered more than I can tell," writes Mrs. Gust. Moser of Ovando, Deerlodge Co., Mout. "My disposition was affected to such an extent that to say anyone was almost impossible.

"I had two operations performed by one of the most skilled surgeons of the West, but did not get relief. Then, against my doctor's strict orders, I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Favorit Prescription and 'Golden Medical Dis-covery,' and also fol-lowed the advice given in the Common Sense Medical Ad-"I continued this treatment for three months, and to-day am as healthy and well as a woman can be. I cannot thank Doctor Pierce enough for his kind letters Womanly diseases, as a rule, spoil the "disposition," because of the extreme nervousness and suffering they cause. Happiness as well as health is restored to the woman whose diseased condition is cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

After eight years of suffering and two fruitless operations, three months' use of "Favorite Prescription" restored Mrs. Moser to perfect health. This great remedy for woman's ills, establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.
